

Arbor Day 2013

Saturday, April 20, Ygnacio Valley Park, Concord, CA

Arbor Day - a Great Day!

Concord had a great turnout for Arbor Day on Saturday, April 20 at Ygnacio Valley Park.

Volunteers included students and scouts from Woodside Elementary School as well as three City Council members, a Park and Rec Commissioner, City Manager Valerie Barone, Parks Manager Steve Voorhies, and Parks staff Ron Nelson, Juan Silva and Chris Llata.

Enjoy these photos from the day, thanks to Chris Llata and friends.

Every Day is a Good Day to Plant a Tree!

Trees do so much for us without our even noticing. They beautify neighborhoods, remove harmful pollutants from the air and provide critical habitat for wildlife. Trees save energy, protect water resources and make our lives healthier.

Learn about trees and which is the best tree for your yard, get tree care tips, identify that mysterious tree in your neighborhood and more: www.arborday.org

Thank you to everyone who made Concord's 2013 Arbor Day a huge success!
